28. The Faculty met to advise the Syndicate as to the steps to be taken for electing a successor to the present Tagore Law Professor, whose term of office expires on the 31st of August next.

RESOLVED:—

That the Syndicate be advised to issue an advertisement in the following form:—

"The Senate of the University of Calcutta will proceed, in the month of August next, to the election of a Tagore Law Professor for such term as the Senate may approve.

"The salary of the Professorship is Rs. 10,000 per annum, and one of the conditions of the appointment is, that the Professor shall deliver in each year a course of lectures on some branch of Law.

"Candidates for the Professorship are requested to forward their applications to the Registrar before the 31st July, and at the same time to state on what subject or subjects they are prepared to lecture."

29. The Faculty then proceeded to consider the following report of the Committee appointed to consider if the present scheme for the Tagore Law Lectures is working satisfactorily, and if not, if it can be improved in any, and what way (Minutes for 1879-80, p. 20) :—

REPORT.

Introductory.

"At one of the meetings of the Faculty of Law, held last year,* very general dissatisfaction was expressed with the working of the existing scheme for the Tagore Law Lectures; and it was resolved to recommend to the Syndicate that a Select Committee of the Faculty should be appointed to consider if the scheme was working satisfactorily, and if not, if it could be improved in any, and what way. (Minutes, 1879-80, p. 9.)

"The Syndicate approved of the recommendation, and requested the Faculty to appoint a Committee. (Minutes, 1879-80, p. 12). Accordingly, the Hon'ble Sir Richard Garth, the Hon'ble R. C. Mitter, W. C. Bonnerjee, Esq., the Hon'ble Amir Ali, and Dr. Gurudas Banerjee were appointed to form the Committee. (Minutes, 1879-80, p. 20.) Subsequently, the Hon'ble Amir Ali left India on furlough, and the Hon'ble H. T. Prinsep was appointed in his stead. This Committee have considered the subject, and now beg to present their report.

Preliminary.

"The Tagore Law Lectures owe their origin to a gift made to the Calcutta University by the late Honorable Prasanna Kumar Tagore, C. S. I., in his will, which was dated the 10th October 1862 (4 B. L. R., O. C., p. 124). The Testator died on the 30th August 1868 (4 B. L. R., O. C., p. 107), and, although the will had been altered by two codicils,—one dated the 23rd March 1868, and the other dated the 25th July 1868,—the gift in question had not been interfered with, and it then took effect.

Letter from the Testator's executors.

"On the 11th December 1868, the Testator's executors wrote to the Registrar, apprising him of the gift, and enquiring 'whether students, who might attend the lectures, would be allowed the privilege of passing the University Examinations in Law without belonging to any affiliated institution, and thus qualifying themselves for the profession'. (Minutes, 1868-69, p. 133.)

* Meeting of July 3rd, 1879.—See Minutes for 1879-80, page 8.

"The gift was accepted, and the Faculty of Law was requested 'to draw up a scheme in accordance with the terms laid down by the Testator;' but the executors were informed that the request preferred in the last paragraph of their letter, being contrary to the regulations of the University, was inadmissible." (Minutes, 1868-69, p. 135).

Action of the Syndicate.

"The Faculty of Law then, at a meeting held on the 18th of February 1869, discussed 'the details of a scheme for the annual delivery of one complete course of lectures in law, in accordance with the terms' (Minutes, 1868-69, pp. 149-150) 'of the will,' the following extract from which relates to the gift in question:—

Extract from will.

"'I am desirous of founding a Law Professorship, to be called "The Tagore Law Professorship," and of providing an adequate remuneration for the Professor who shall fill the chair provided by me. I direct that my trustees or trustee do, and shall as soon as may conveniently be after my death, invest in Government securities such a sum of money taken from my personalty or by degrees from the income of my real estate, at the discretion of my trustees or trustee, as will produce the monthly sum of Rs. 1,000; and that when such sum has been invested, the same may be assigned, transferred, and made over to the University of Calcutta, to be held upon the following trusts, that is to say: In trust to pay, out of the interest accruing due therefrom, the annual sum of Rs. 10,000, by equal monthly payments to the Tagore Law Professor for the time being, and in trust to apply the residue of the interest in the manner hereinafter mentioned. And I desire that until such sum shall have been so invested and made over as hereinbefore directed, my said trustees or trustee shall, either from the proceeds of my personal estate or from the rents, issues, and profits arising from my real property, pay the sum of Rs. 1,000 a month to the University of Calcutta, to be applied by the University in the same manner and for the same purpose as the interest to accrue due from the funds which I have hereinbefore directed to be made over to the University. And I declare that the right of appointing a Professor to the said 'Tagore Law Professorship,' and of removing or dismissing the incumbent therefrom, shall be vested in the Senate of the University; and that the first appointment shall be made so as to begin to take effect not later than the end of one year from the date of my death. My will is that the Tagore Law Professor shall read or deliver yearly at some place within the town of Calcutta, one complete course of Law Lectures without charge to the students and other persons who may attend such lectures. Within six months after the delivery of each course of lectures, the lectures shall be printed, and not less than 500 copies thereof shall be distributed gratuitously. I desire that the expenses of such printing and distribution may be defrayed out of the residue of the annual interest of the said fund. Whatever portion of the residue may remain after defraying the expenses, I desire that it may be devoted to the printing and publication of approved works on Law or Jurisprudence. It is my will that the said Tagore Law Professorship shall, save as herein provided, be, as to the kind of law which is to be taught, and in all other matters and things, regulated by and subject to the control of the Senate of the said University." (See Minutes, 1868-69, pp. 134 and 135.)

"The following scheme was recommended to the Syndicate, for submission to the Senate :—

"'(a) During the next three years, a Course of Lectures to be delivered annually on the subjects enumerated in the following programme :—

FIRST YEAR.

"'Jurisprudence, Civil Government, Public Establishments, Personal Rights, Rights of Property, Tenure of Land under the Perpetual Settlement, &c., Law of Landlord and Tenant.

SECOND YEAR.

"'Law of Contracts. Gifts, Sales, Mortgages, Registration of Assurances, General principles of Mercantile Law, Civil Remedies, Principles of Equity, Law of Evidence.

THIRD YEAR.

"'Marriage, Divorce, Guardianship, Law of Inheritance according to Hindu, Mahomedan, and English Law, Wills, Indian Succession Act, Representation in case of death.

"'(b) The lectures to be delivered by the Professor twice a week from 15th January to 15th May, and from 15th June to 31st August.

"'(c) The Professor to be appointed for a term of three years, and the office to be vacated in the event of the Professor being compelled to leave India or of his being incapacitated from continuing the course of lectures.' (Minutes, 1868-69, pp. 149-150.)

"This scheme was considered by the Syndicate on the 30th April 1869, together with a letter on the subject from Mr. T. H. Cowie, the then Advocate General of Bengal, who disapproved of the scheme and suggested that

"'The right mode of dealing with the matter would be for the Professor in each year to devote himself to the full and exhaustive treatment of some distinct head or title in the law, illustrating it by references to and analogies drawn from other branches of the general subject ; and always bearing in mind that he is dealing with the particular title as an Indian Law Professor."

"'What I should prefer would be,' Mr. Cowie added, 'that the Senate, through the Faculty of Law, should from year to year select the subject, leaving its treatment to the discretion and ability of the Professor ; and being, of course, careful to select such topics as will be of most interest and practical use to the hearers.' (Minutes, 1869-70, p. 7.)

"On the proposal of the late Mr. Justice Norman, who was one of the members of the Faculty of Law who had recommended the scheme for adoption, the Syndicate 'resolved that the scheme be returned to the Faculty for further consideration, and that the Faculty be further requested to consider the conditions under which the Professor should receive his appointment.' (Minutes, 1869-70, p. 8.)

"The matter thus again came before the Faculty of Law, was re-considered by that body, and the following amended scheme was recommended for the approval of the Syndicate:—

"'1.—That the Professor to be appointed shall deliver in each year a course of lectures on some branch of Hindu, Mahomedan or Anglo-Indian Law; the subject or subjects to be selected annually by the Syndicate, in consultation with the Faculty of Law and the Professor.

"'2.—That the selection of subjects be made with a view to the ultimate formation of a body of institutes of Indian Law.

"'3.—That the Professor be appointed for a term of three years, and at the expiration of that term be eligible for re-appointment.' (Minutes, 1869-70, p. 12.)

The Faculty had apparently at this time been asked to select a Professor from amongst certain candidates who had applied for the appointment; and also the subject for the first year's lectures; and they recommended—

"'4.—That, of the several candidates who have offered themselves, Mr. Cowell, in the opinion of the Faculty, is the most eligible.

"'5.—That some branch of Hindu Law be selected for the first year's lectures." (Minutes, 1869-70, p. 13.)

"This amended scheme was approved by the Syndicate (Minutes, 1869-70, p. 15) and adopted by the Senate, who elected Mr. Cowell 'Tagore Law Professor' (see Minutes, 1869-70, pp. 18, 19). It would seem that some difficulty arose after Mr. Cowell's appointment, as to the particular branch of the Hindu Law on which he was to lecture; and the discussion which took place on the subject in the Faculty of Law called forth a minute from Sir Barnes Peacock, the then Chief Justice, who suggested that 'a course of lectures upon Law as a science, teaching general principles, and comparing the Roman and Civil Law as to rights and duties with those of modern civilized nations, and with the Hindu and Mahomedan systems, would be far preferable to that proposal. Such a course might also with advantage give a clear and comprehensive view of the Constitutional Government of India, its history and progress. Such a course * * * would doubtless cost much time and thought, but that must have been intended by the Founder, when he provided a large and liberal endowment.' (Minutes, 1869-70, p. 31.)

"Mr. Cowell had proposed that his subject for lectures during the first year should be 'The Hindu Law of Adoption,' and that 'the course' should be entitled 'The Hindu Family' (Minutes, 1869-70, page 29); but the Faculty were of opinion that the proposal should not be accepted, and that Mr. Cowell should be requested to deliver a course of lectures on the Hindu Law generally, so as to complete the subject during the first year. (Minutes, 1869-70, p. 33.)

"The Syndicate, after considering a long letter from Mr. Cowell, protesting against the resolution of the Faculty, ultimately decided 'that the subject for lectures by the Tagore Law Professor during the first year should be Hindu Law as current in Bengal.' (Minutes, 1869-70, pp. 34—37.)

"After the first year's lectures were over, the relative rights of the University and of the Professor in the copyright of the lectures were settled by the Syndicate in consultation with the Faculty (see Minutes, 1870-71, pages 7, 11, 33 and 34); and with reference to the selection of the subject for the Tagore Law Lectures of 1871, it was resolved, on the recommendation of the Faculty, 'that the Hindu Law of Inheritance should be the subject of lectures for 1871' (Minutes, 1870-71, page 34). For the year 1872, the following subject, which had been approved by the Faculty of Law, was adopted by the Syndicate:—'The history and constitution of the Courts and Legislatures in India.' (Minutes, 1871-72, pp. 48—50.)

"Shortly before Mr. Cowell's tenure of office expired, the Faculty of Law were invited to advise the Syndicate as to the steps to be taken for electing a Tagore Professor of Law: and at a meeting held on April 27th 1872, they recommended that an advertisement, of which they settled the form, should be published in the newspapers, and that a second meeting of the Faculty should be held later on, 'to consider the applications for the appointment, and to report to the Syndicate any further measures which it might then be thought desirable to adopt.' (Minutes, 1872-73, p. 1.)

"The advertisement was to the effect that, on or before the expiration of the term of office of the then Tagore Law Professor, a meeting of the Senate would be convened for the purpose of electing a successor for such further term as the Senate might approve; and that the Professor to be elected would be required to deliver annually one complete course of lectures on some branch of Hindu, Mahomedan, or Anglo-Indian Law." (Minutes, 1872-pp. 73, 1-2.)

"The Committee have not been able to discover whether any discussion had taken place as to the term for which the new Professor was to be elected, before the meeting of the Faculty at which the advertisement was settled; nor does there seem to be any record to shew what had been done about the professorship from the time when the subject of the lectures for the year 1872 was approved, to the time of the meeting of the Faculty, of April 27th 1872. However that may be, a second meeting of the Faculty was held on June 22nd 1872, and it was then resolved to recommend to the Syndicate—

"'(1) That the Professor be appointed for a term extending from the 11th July 1872 to the 31st August 1873, and at the expiration of that term be eligible for re-appointment.

"'(2) That some branch or branches of Mahomedan Law as administered in the High Courts of India, and the Courts subordinate to them, should form the subject for lectures.

"'(3) That, of the several candidates who have offered themselves (there were five), Baboo Shama Churn Sircar, in the opinion of the Faculty, is the most eligible.' (See Minutes, 1872-73, p. 6.)

"The Syndicate approved of the recommendations relating to the term for which the Professor was to be elected, and the gentleman to be elected (see Minutes, 1872-73, page 7), and they were confirmed by the Senate at a meeting held on July 10th 1872 (Minutes, 1872-73, page 20). An attempt was made by Drs. Oldham and Ewart to have the Professor elected under the same terms as were fixed by the Senate in 1869-70; but it was unsuccessful. Subsequently, the Faculty approved the proposal of Baboo Shama Churn Sircar, the new Tagore Law Professor, 'to deliver a course of lectures on certain branches of Mahomedan Law' (see Minutes, 1872-73, page 25), and it was adopted by the Syndicate (see Minutes, 1872-73, p. 26).

"Shortly before the expiration of the term for which Baboo Shama Churn Sircar had been appointed, the Registrar, under orders from the Syndicate, issued an advertisement inviting candidates for the next election, in the same form as the one which had been settled by the Faculty of Law (see Minutes, 1873-74, page 21). Several candidates presented themselves; their applications were referred to the Faculty of Law for consideration and report (see Minutes, 1873-74, page 28), and the Faculty recommended—

"'(1) That the Professor be appointed for a term of one year from the 1st of September 1873.

"'(2) That some branch or branches of Mahomedan Law as administered in the High Courts of India and the Courts subordinate to them should form the subject for lectures.

"'(3) That Baboo Shama Churn Sircar be re-appointed.' (See Minutes, 1873-74, p. 31.)

"The Syndicate resolved 'that a Meeting of the Senate be summoned for the 23rd of August, for the purpose of electing a Tagore Professor of Law; and that the names of the gentlemen who are candidates for the Professorship be circulated to the Senate with an intimation that the Faculty of Law have made the above recommendations to the Syndicate". (See Minutes, 1873-74, p. 32)

"A Meeting of the Senate was accordingly held, and, it having been proposed 'that the Professor be appointed for a term of one year from the 1st of September 1873,' an objection was taken that 'the whole question be postponed until the return of the Honorable Mr. Vice-Chancellor, and that in the meantime the Syndicate be empowered to make arrangements for carrying on the lectures'; but the objection was overruled and the recommendations of the Faculty, including that relating to 'the subject for lectures,' were adopted. (See Minutes, 1872-73, pp. 34-35.)

"As in the two previous years, an advertisement in the same form was published in the newspapers, inviting candidates for the Professorship, before the expiration of Baboo Shama Churn Sircar's second term of office (see Minutes, 1874-75, p. 14). Several candidates presented themselves, and their applications were referred to the Faculty of Law for consideration and report (see Minutes, 1874-75, p. 20).

"One of the candidates this year was Dr. Chevers, as to whose application the Faculty were of opinion that he 'was not eligible under the terms of the will and the rules laid down by the Senate.' The Faculty then proceeded to consider the applications from the other candidates. * * * * * * It was resolved, that it is the sense of the meeting that, upon the list, and with the information before it, the only two possible candidates out of seven were Mr. Phillips and Baboo Shama Churn Sircar. The Faculty afterwards resolved to recommend to the Syndicate (1) that Mr. Phillips be appointed Professor for a term of one year from the 1st September 1874; (2) that the Law of the Land Tenures in Lower Bengal should form the subject for lectures' (see Minutes, 1874-75, pp. 26, 27).

"The Syndicate approved of the recommendation of the Faculty (see Minutes, 1874-75, p. 30), but there was a 'prolonged discussion' on the subject of Dr. Chevers's ineligibility, at the meeting of the Senate which followed, and his name was added to the list of candidates; but Mr. Phillips was elected Professor 'for the term of one year from 1st September 1874' (see Minutes, 1874-75, pp. 32, 33).

"There must have been, though there is no record of it, some difficulty experienced even then as to the proper working of the scheme for the Professorship; for the Committee find that at a Meeting of the Syndicate held on September 26th 1874, 'the Vice-Chancellor represented that the President of the Faculty of Law (Sir Arthur Hobhouse) was desirous of having the present scheme for the Tagore Law Lectures, and the election of the Professor, brought before the Faculty of Law, for re-consideration;' and it was resolved 'that the Faculty of Law should be requested to re-consider the scheme of the Tagore Law Lectures, and the mode of electing the Professor' (see Minutes, 1874-75, p. 38).

"Accordingly, a meeting of the Faculty was held on December 19th 1874, at which Sir Arthur Hobhouse, after referring to the resolution of the Syndicate before referred to, remarked—'I was not present at the Meeting at which this resolution was passed; but I imagine that the object of it is, that the Faculty of Law should consider whether it is possible to seek a Professor in a larger field than Calcutta, or even than India; and whether for that purpose it may not be useful to offer to an eligible man, a longer term of office than the scheme now allows.' He also said—'I conceive * * * that the alterations in the mode of electing the Professor, which the Syndicate contemplate, relate to the preliminary steps taken to find a proper man, and to that part of the scheme which is headed (C.)' He further remarked—

"'That this clause requires some revision, seems pretty clear, because it has not been found convenient in practice. Practically, the appointments subsequent to that of Mr. Cowell have been made only for one year. Probably it would be desirable to say that the Professor be appointed for such term as the Senate think proper in each case, after considering the recommendation of the Syndicate" (see Minutes, 1874-75, pp. 40-41).

"After a discussion of the question before the meeting, it was resolved by the Faculty to recommend to the Syndicate—

"'That Clause (C) of the present scheme be struck out, and the following substituted in its place:—

"'That the Professor be appointed for such term as the Senate think proper in each case, after considering the recommendation of the Syndicate; and that he be always eligible for re-appointment.'

"The Faculty then passed the following resolution—

"'That the enquiries which are made for candidates may usefully be extended beyond the confines of India;'

and it was referred to three members of the Faculty, to frame an advertisement for candidates, and to submit it to the Faculty (see Minutes, 1874-75, pp. 40-41).

"The Syndicate approved of the alteration in the scheme recommended by the Faculty, and, with reference to the proposal of the Faculty, that enquiries should be made for candidates beyond the confines of India, they requested Mr. Justice Markby, who was one of their body, and also a member of the Faculty, to submit at the next Meeting of the Syndicate, an advertisement for candidates, approved by the President of the Faculty (see Minutes, 1874-75, p. 42).

"The alteration in the scheme afterwards came before the Senate, when, it having been moved and seconded for adoption, an amendment was proposed 'that the appointment of the Tagore Law Professor be for one year, and that the said Professor be eligible for re-appointment on the expiration of the first year;' but the amendment was lost, and the original proposal carried (see Minutes, 1874-75, p. 59). After the scheme had been altered, Dr. Rajendralala Mitra, Rai Bahadoor, and Baboo Shama Churn Sircar, who had been Tagore Law Professor for two successive years, proposed and seconded, and it was carried at the same meeting of the Senate—

"'That the Syndicate be requested to refer to the Faculty of Law, the question of revising the scheme for the Tagore Law Lectures, as to the subjects upon which the Professor shall deliver a course of lectures' (see Minutes, 1874-75, p. 60);

"and the Syndicate accordingly, at a meeting held on January 30th 1875, referred the matter to the Faculty; and they also then directed a Notification to be transmitted to the English and German Universities, and to the Inns of Court in London. The Notification was as follows:—

"'The Senate of the University of Calcutta will proceed to the election of a Tagore Law Professor in the month of August of the present year.

"'The duties of the Professor are,—to deliver in each year a course of lectures on some branch of Hindu, Mahomedan, or Anglo-Indian law.

"'Five hundred copies of the lectures are printed, published, and distributed, at the expense of the University. Subject to this, the copyright in the lectures belongs to the Professor.

"'The lectures must be delivered in the English language, in Calcutta; but the Professor is not compelled to reside in Calcutta.

"'The Professor is appointed for such a term of years as the Senate may think desirable, and is eligible for re-appointment.

"'The salary is Rs. 10,000 per annum.

"'It is desirable that candidates should state, in their applications, the least number of years for which they are willing to accept the appointment, and the subject on which they desire to lecture.

"'The qualifications of candidates should be fully stated, and guaranteed by testimonials.

"'Further information may be obtained from the Registrar of the Calcutta University' (see Minutes, 1874-75, p. 66).

"The notification was duly sent, but no candidates apparently came forward for election from either England or Germany; and, since then, the advertisements that have been issued have been confined to the Indian newspapers.

"At a meeting of the Faculty of Law, held on February 13th 1875, the Faculty considered, by request of the Senate and the Syndicate, the question of revising the scheme for the Tagore Law Lectures, as to the subjects upon which the Professor shall deliver a course of lectures; and it was resolved by the Faculty—

"'That the following changes in the scheme as laid down at page 125 of the Calendar for 1874-75 be recommended to the Syndicate:—

'(1) That head (A) of the present scheme be altered by striking out the word "annually" in the fourth line, and the last three words, "and the Professor."

'(2) That under the same head the words "Hindu, Mahomedan, or Anglo-Indian", in the third line, be struck out' (see Minutes, 1874-75, p. 72).

"The recommendation came before the Syndicate on February 27th, 1875, and it was ordered—

"'That, in accordance with the recommendation of the Faculty, the following amended clause, in lieu of head (A) of the present scheme for Tagore Law Lectures, be submitted for the sanction of the Senate:—

"'That the Professor to be appointed shall deliver in each year a course of lectures on some branch of law; the subject or subjects to be selected by the Syndicate, in consultation with the Faculty of Law' (see Minutes, 1874-75, p. 77).

"The subject came before the Senate on April 24th, 1875, when, although an attempt was made to carry the recommendation of the Faculty in its integrity, it failed, and the following amendment was carried:—

"'That the Professor appointed by the Senate shall deliver in each year a course of lectures on some branch of law, the subject or subjects to be selected by the Syndicate in consultation with the Faculty of Law and the Professor,—the said subject or subjects to be approved by the Senate" (see Minutes, 1875-76, p. 1); and since then the scheme for the Tagore Law Lectures has stood as follows:—

"'(a.) That the Professor appointed by the Senate shall deliver in each year, a course of Lectures on some branch of Law; the subject or subjects to be selected by the Syndicate in consultation with the Faculty of Law and the Professor,—the said subject or subjects to be approved by the Senate;

"'(b) That the selection be made with a view to the ultimate formation of a body of Institutes of Indian Law;

"'(c) That the Professor be appointed for such term as the Senate think proper in each case after considering the recommendation of the Syndicate; and that he be always eligible for re-appointment" (See Calendar for 1875-76, page 119, and Calendar for 1879-80, page 105);

and the way in which it is carried out is this:—The Faculty of Law meet, at the request of the Syndicate, to advise them 'as to the steps to be taken for electing a successor' to the Tagore Law Professor; an advertisement in the old form is recommended; the advertisement is published in the newspapers; the applications of the candidates 'which state on what subject or subjects they are prepared to lecture' are sent to the Faculty by the Syndicate. The Faculty recommend a candidate, or sometimes one of two candidates, and the subjects for lectures generally. Adopting the best of the subjects mentioned by the selected candidate or candidates, the Syndicate submit the name of the candidate to the Senate, and the latter body elect a Professor from amongst the candidates, and the subject for lectures.

"The Committee have thought it necessary to present the foregoing connected history of what the University Authorities have done from time to time in connection with the Tagore Law Professorship, in order that the changes that have taken place may be seen at a glance, and that the recommendations which they propose to submit at the end of this report may be easily understood.

"It is impossible not to feel, after a perusal of this history, that there has been throughout displayed great anxiety to give effect, to the limited extent originally determined on by the Syndicate, to the liberal bequest of the Founder of the Professorship; but the Committee are not satisfied that the desire of the University Authorities has been attained—on the contrary, they think that the scheme as ultimately adopted, like those which had preceded it, has failed. The general dissatisfaction which has been expressed with regard to it would be sufficient to justify the conclusion at which the Committee have arrived. Very little more than two years after it was adopted, the Honorable Louis S. Jackson proposed, at a meeting of the Faculty of Law (and his proposition was unanimously adopted),

"'that it be a suggestion to the Syndicate, that it would be well if the Senate announced at every election of a Tagore Law Professor, in what subject it was desired that the Professor next to be elected should lecture' (See Minutes, 1878-79, page 27).

"It does not appear whether any action was taken on this suggestion; but the fact of its being made and unanimously adopted by the Faculty shews that, so far as that body was concerned, the scheme had not worked well; and a little consideration will shew that, if what the Committee consider to be the principle on which the Senate have accepted the gift, has to be carried out, the present scheme is wholly insufficient for the purpose. This principle they take to be 'the ultimate formation of a body of Institutes of Indian Law' as mentioned in clause (b) of the scheme.

"When the Executors of the Founder first put themselves in communication with the Registrar, on the subject of the Professorship, they hinted at a desire on their part that the students who might attend the lectures might be allowed the privilege of passing the University Examinations in Law without belonging to any affiliated institution. Looking to the relationship of some of the executors with the Founder, it is probable that that was his desire also; but the University Act of Incorporation rendered it impossible to carry it out. If the desire of the executors could have been carried out, the framing of the scheme for the purpose would no doubt have been easy; but under the circumstances, and regard being had to the fact that the Founder has required that the lectures should be printed, the only principle on which the University could act was the formation of 'a body of Institutes of Indian Law' out of the lectures—in other words, to adopt the principle which the Committee have before referred to. If this be so, the best way to carry out the principle obviously is (as was pointed out in Mr. Cowie's letter of April 30th, 1869) in the first place to select certain subjects to be lectured upon; then to invite candidates to take them up, and from amongst them to elect the most competent person to lecture on the subjects he is most conversant with. The scheme, as it at present stands, necessitates the election of a Professor first, and then the selection of a subject in consultation with him. The extreme inconvenience of this mode of procedure is, that those who have to advise as to the Professor to be elected and the subject to be selected, and those who have the ultimate election and selection, have little or no data on which to base their decision. They have to choose one amongst several candidates, without being fully cognisant of their qualifications; and not only so, but, in case of some of these candidates, to see which out of several subjects named by them they are most competent to deal with. For instance, the successful candidate for the year ending the 31st of August 1879 had mentioned four distinct subjects, and the Faculty had not only to see which of these subjects was the most suitable for the Tagore Law Lectures, but which the candidate was most competent to lecture upon. As it happened, the lecturer in question was a distinguished individual, and had made some of the subjects his particular study; but the majority of the candidates who come forward for the lectureship are not so distinguished; and the difficulty the Committee have referred to is likely to be experienced more and more. Then again, the present scheme subordinates the subject to be lectured upon (or, in other words, subordinates the principle on which the endowment is supposed to be carried out) to the selection of the Professor. The Committee are of opinion that this should not be so. At an election to such a valuable post as that of the Tagore Law Professor, by such a large and mixed body as the Senate of the University, there must of necessity be a great deal of canvassing, and the friends of the respective candidates would naturally be moved to support their claims, independently of any subject or subjects to be lectured upon; for according to the present scheme, the subject has to be selected in consultation with the Professor. Suppose a gentleman is selected who is only competent to lecture on a subject not falling within the principle which the Committee have mentioned. There is, as far as the Committee can see, no power in anybody to cancel the appointment, and the result would be that the Professor would lecture on a subject not contemplated by the University. There is yet another (and, if possible, more serious) objection to the present scheme: The Professor, once appointed, is practically irremoveable during the term of his office. It is true that, by the will, the power 'of removing or dismissing the incumbent' from the professorship is vested in the Senate; but the scheme makes no provision for this, and it is doubtful whether, if the Professor were to conduct himself in such a way as would justify his removal or dismissal, he could be got rid of. For these reasons, and others which it is unnecessary to go into in detail here, the Committee are of opinion that the scheme at present in force is not a satisfactory one, and should be re-considered and altered.

"Before stating the recommendations which they are prepared to make, the Committee think it desirable to draw attention to the fact that the attempt to obtain well-qualified professors in England or Germany has failed in such a way as to preclude the hope of its ever being successful. The result is, that the professors have now to be chosen from amongst competent persons resident in this country. All the persons who have hitherto applied for the professorship have been those who are in some profession, or who belong to some service yielding them an income apparently sufficient for their purposes independently of the income derivable from the professorship; and if a remodelling of the scheme should be determined upon, the Committee think that the question of the remuneration to be paid to the Professor ought also to be taken into consideration. The Committee at present are of opinion that the terms of the will as to the remuneration are such that it can only be altered with the assistance of the Legislature. They, however, do not apprehend that there will be much difficulty in obtaining this assistance, in case it should be agreed upon by the Senate. The remuneration at present allowed to the Professor is, in comparison with the remuneration received by the Readers in and Professors of Law appointed by the Inns of Court, the Incorporated Law Society, and the Universities, very liberal indeed—in fact, nearly double that which is received by the best paid of these Professors; and it seems to the Committee a real waste of money to pay Rs. 10,000 per annum to a Professor who could be obtained easily for half that amount.

"That the Committee are not over sanguine in this opinion, is apparent from the fact that the Tagore Law Professor for 1879 was at the same time one of the Lecturers in Law in the Presidency College, and all the remuneration he got was about Rs. 1,800 per annum. The present Tagore Law Professor was a Professor in the Canning College, Lucknow, where he had to devote the whole of his time to his duties, and his remuneration was less than Rs. 500 per mensem. Other instances may be adduced to prove the fact, and the Committee believe that if the remuneration were reduced by one-half, there would be just as many candidates for the office, and with just as good qualifications, as there are now. It does not appear to the Committee that, in asking the help of the Legislature to alter the amount of remuneration, any violence would be done to the real intention of the Founder, for, at the time the will was made, there would have been considerable difficulty in getting qualified Professors at a lesser rate than Rs. 10,000 per annum. The Presidency College Law Professors then got about Rs. 700 per mensem, if not more; and at that time only eleven gentlemen had obtained the degree of B. L. from the University, only twenty-five had obtained that of L. L., and fifteen had qualified themselves for the degree of L. L., but did not get it, as they had not passed the F. A. Examination. Things have entirely changed now, and we have more than twenty-five graduates in the degree of B. L. every year. The object of the Testator was to provide people with legal education free of charge; and if, instead of having one Professor lecturing on one subject, there could be two Professors (one lecturing on one special subject according to the present scheme, and the other on general subjects as originally recommended by the Faculty of Law) for the same money, many more people would undoubtedly be benefited, and the Testator's object better carried out.

"There is one other matter to which the Committee would wish to draw attention. At present, the attendance at these lectures is perfectly optional: there is no sort of inducement (except the presentation of a copy of the lectures delivered during the year of attendance, which the Committee understand now takes place) for any person to attend them. The request of the Executors before referred to could not, of course, be carried out; but the Committee do not see why there should not be an examination held by the Tagore Law Professor on the subject of the lectures delivered by him, and why some provision out of the Tagore Fund should not be made (of course, with the assistance of the Legislature) to present a medal or some other prize to the most successful student.

"Under the circumstances, the Committee recommend that the present scheme should be changed, and that in its stead the following should be adopted :—

"1. That in the month of August in each year, the Faculty of Law shall name four or more subjects, upon one of which (to be selected by himself) the Professor for the following year shall be required to deliver a course of at least twelve lectures.

"2. That immediately after the subjects shall have been thus named, advertisements shall be published in such newspapers as the Syndicate may think proper, stating the subjects for the lectures, and inviting candidates for the Professorship.

"3. That the candidates shall then send in their names to the Registrar on or before the 1st of January following; and each candidate shall be required to state upon which of the subjects he is willing to lecture.

"4. That the election of the Professor shall then take place in the month of March; and that he shall be appointed for one year only,—the Senate being at liberty to re-elect him, if they shall think proper.

"5. That steps should be taken by the Senate as soon as possible, and, if necessary, an Act of the Legislature obtained, for the purpose of appointing two Professors, and of dividing between them the remuneration provided by the will of the Founder, in such a way as the Senate may think proper, so as to provide for the delivery and publication of two courses of lectures, instead of one, in each year.

35. Read the following letter from the Comptroller General, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce :—

From the Comptroller General, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Dept. of Finance and Commerce,—No. 57A., dated the 16th July 1880.

SIR,—I have the honor to report that the accounts of the University of Calcutta for the year 1879-80 have been audited on my behalf, and have been found to be correct, subject to the remarks in paragraph 2 of this letter. The audit has included the transactions of the several endowment funds in the hands of the University Authorities, as well as of the fee fund. The invested balances of the endowment funds are in the custody of the Bank of Bengal, and the Bank's certificate was inspected and found to be correct.

2. The only matter in connection with the accounts to which I have to draw attention is, that two of the payments of the year are not supported by any receipts from the payees. The first of these is for the small sum of Rs. 3-11-3, remitted by a transfer receipt to the Superintendent of the Peshawar Mission School, on account of expenses incurred there in connection with the last Entrance. Examination. It appears that the original transfer receipt miscarried, and that a duplicate has recently been issued: the payee's receipt may therefore shortly be expected.* The second payment is for a sum of Rs. 50, remitted to Dr. Leitner, as an additional fee for setting and examining papers in Urdu and Arabic at the last Entrance, First Arts, and B. A. Examinations. No receipt has yet been received from Dr. Leitner, although two letters, besides that forwarding the remittance, have been sent to him, with a request that his receipt for the money might be forwarded.

3. Annexed is a statement of the receipts and disbursements of the University Fee Fund for the year 1879-80.

The Vice-Cancellor then proposed that Mr. W. F. The report, having been circulated to all the Members of the Senate, was taken as read.

The Vice Chancellor proposed that, for the present scheme for the Tagore Law Lectures, the following be substituted :—

1.—That in the month of August in each year, the Faculty of Law shall name four or more subjects, upon one of which (to be selected by himself) the Professor for the following year shall be required to deliver a course of at least twelve lectures.

MINUTES OF THE SYNDICATE

FOR THE YEAR 1880-81.

No. 11.

THE 26TH FEBRUARY.

Present:

THE HON'BLE ARTHUR WILSON, in the Chair.

A. W. CROFT, ESQ., M. A.
THE HON'BLE H. J. REYNOLDS, B.A., C.S.
A. M. BOSE, ESQ.
BABU ANNADAPRASAD BANERJEA.
DR. H. CAYLEY.
COLONEL F. S. STANTON, R.E.

118. Read a letter from the Under Secretary to the Government of India, Home, Revenue, and Agricultural Department, sanctioning the affiliation of the City College up to the F. A. standard, with effect from the 1st of January 1881.

ORDERED—

To be recorded.

119. Read a letter from Roper Lethbridge, Esq., C.I.E., thanking the Vice-Chancellor and Syndicate of the University for adopting his Selections from Modern English Literature for the Entrance Examination of 1882.

ORDERED—

To be recorded.

120. Read the following correspondence with reference to the case of Patrick McGuire, who was sent up for the F. A. Examination of 1880, by the Principal of the Free Church Institution, Calcutta :—

From the Registrar of the Calcutta University, to the Principal, Free Church Institution,—No. 561, dated the 1st February 1881.

"I have the honor, by direction of the Vice-Chancellor and Syndicate, to forward herewith copy of a certificate submitted by Patrick McGuire, a candidate for the F. A. Examination of 1880, together with copy of a letter from the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal (No. 1, dated the 3rd of January 1881), for any remarks that you may choose to offer."

From the Principal, Free Church Institution, to the Registrar, Calcutta University, dated 10th February, 1881.

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of yours, No. 561, dated 1st February 1881, with enclosures.

"As the certificate in question was granted by the Rev. K. S. Macdonald, who acted as Principal during my absence in Europe, I have referred the matter to him for explanation; and I now beg to forward his remarks, for the information of the Vice-Chancellor and Syndicate.

"I have to express my entire disapproval of Mr. Macdonald's action in granting the certificate under the circumstances stated by him. I am not aware of any acknowledged laxity in interpreting the certificate, or in the practice of the Free Church Institution, that could justify Mr. Macdonald in regarding as a student of the institution, any one who resided in Darjeeling and never attended a single lecture. I deeply regret that such a case should have occurred, and that Mr. Macdonald, by this action, should have compromised the character of the Institution.

"I have only to add that the Rev. K. S. Macdonald's connection with the institution has ceased from the commencement of the present Session.

(Sd.) WILLIAM C. FYFE,
Principal."

"As regards Patrick McGuire, I would observe that in May 1880 he applied for admission into the Free Church Institution, and presented, both in copy and in original, a certificate from St. Xavier's College, testifying that he had studied there from January 1877 to May 1878, and that he was present 314 out of the 316 times the roll had been called. The certificate (a copy of which is herewith sent) being satisfactory, and being accompanied with one from the Calcutta University, certifying that he had passed the University Entrance Examination, he was admitted into the Free Church Institution. McGuire also stated that he had to go to Darjeeling on account of his health.

"Though regularly month by month paying his fees, and professing to be working hard at his studies, and promising to attend the Institution,—as a matter of fact, he never attended any lectures there. When, therefore, the time arrived for sending up candidates to the University Examinations, the question was considered as to whether McGuire was entitled to any certificate. Up till this time—and, indeed, till the Examinations were over—not a breath of suspicion had been heard against McGuire's character. That, as far as the authorities of the Free Church Institution knew, was quite satisfactory.

"Then, as regards the two years study in one or more affiliated colleges, which had to be certified, it was always understood that the certificate was signed under an acknowledged degree of laxity of interpretation—that is, it was understood that all that was certified to, was that the student's name was on the rolls of one or more affiliated colleges for two full years or sessions; and that, of the total number of times the roll of the class had been called during that period, he had been present 75 per cent. This was calculated by the authorities of the Free Church Institution in regard to every doubtful case, and it was found that Mcguire had 75 per cent. of attendance. His certificate was accordingly signed by the Principal as correct in this, which he understood to be the universally received meaning of it.

"On the very day on which the Principal heard for the first time that McGuire's character was bad and that he had been expelled from St. Xavier's College and the Civil Engineering College, he wrote to the Registrar of the Calcutta University, requesting that the certificate be cancelled, as it had been signed in ignorance of all this.

(Sd.) K. S. MACDONALD."

RESOLVED—

That the Syndicate consider that the Rev. K. S. Macdonald's explanation is unsatisfactory; but as he has ceased to be Principal of the Free Church Institution, it is unnecessary to take any further notice of the matter.

121. Read a letter from Babu Krishnabihari Sen, M. A., Rector of the Albert School, praying that the School may be affiliated up to the F. A. Standard with effect from the 1st of January 1881.

ORDERED—

That the Registrar write to Babu Krishnabihari Sen, M.A., requesting that the application for the affiliation of the Albert School may be made by the Committee of the Indian Reform Association, or whatever may be the governing body of the school.

122. Read a letter from the Hon'ble Syed Ahmed, C. S. I. Secretary to the Mahomedan Anglo-Oriental College Fund Committee, praying that the Mahomedan Anglo-Oriental College

Aligarh, may be affiliated to the Calcutta University up to the standard for the B. A. Examination, with effect from the 1st of January 1881.

RESOLVED—

That an application be made to the Government of India, recommending the Governor General in Council to sanction the affiliation to the University of Calcutta, of the Mahomedan Anglo-Oriental College, Aligarh, up to the B. A. Standard, with effect from 1st of January 1881.

123. Read a letter from Miss Pigot, Superintendent, Scottish Ladies' Association, Calcutta, enquiring whether any special provision can be made for the second paper of the second day in the case of two female candidates for the Entrance Examination, who only know English (as their vernacular) and Sanskrit, and absolutely nothing of any other language.

ORDERED—

(1) That the two Female Candidates in question be required to translate into English an unseen piece of Sanskrit, in lieu of translating into the vernacular passages in English, selected from a newspaper or other current literature of the day.

141. The Senate was convened for the purpose of conferring degrees.

The Vice-Chancellor having declared the Convocation opened, the Graduates of the year were admitted to their respective degrees in the usual manner.

The Vice Chancellor then addressed the Senate and Graduates as follows:—

"In accordance with established usage, I rise to address you upon those topics connected with the work of the University which the events of the past year, and our present position and prospects, seem to render appropriate.

"During the past academic year we have had to lament the loss by death of three of the members of our Senate.

"Dr. Wenger, who was a native of Switzerland, came to this country as a Christian missionary more than forty years ago. As a Christian missionary he lived and worked and died here; and it is as such, I am sure, that he would have wished to be remembered. But in this place it is allowable also to recall his great attainments as a linguist, and his unwearied diligence as a translator of the sacred literature of the West into the classical Sanskrit and into several of the vernaculars of India.

"Mr. Sherring also came to this country as a missionary. For many years past his labours were chiefly educational, as head of the High School of the London Missionary Society, at Benares, one of the most important schools of the North-west. His literary works were of high value.

"In Mr. Aberigh Mackay we have lost the very youngest upon our roll of Fellows. As head of the Rajkumar College at Ajmere, he bore an important part in the work of education. He was the author of several valuable works illustrative of native life and native family history. His lighter writings will long be remembered with pleasure, for their bright and sympathetic humour.

"During the same year, there has passed to his rest one of the most eminent among the veterans of Indian administration, one who was no longer a member of our University, but who was connected more closely than most men with its history and advancement. In the presence of those whom I am now addressing, it is unnecessary that I should dwell in detail upon the eminent services of Sir Cecil Beadon, during the various stages of his administrative career, and finally as Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal. What I wish here to recall is rather his connection with the University. He was one of our original Fellows; he took an active part in the business of the Senate; and he served as a member of the Syndicate. Amidst all the labours of a very busy career, and amidst all the anxieties involved in the government of a province during a crisis of no ordinary difficulty, his interest in the cause of education, and particularly in the welfare of this University, never flagged. And one of the last wishes expressed by him before the close of his life was that his bust should be presented to the University. This wish has been carried into effect by his relatives.

"The examinations held during the past year have shown, on the whole, fairly satisfactory results. At the Entrance Examination there were 2,793 candidates, of whom 1,666 passed. At the First Arts Examination the candidates were 983, of whom 398 passed. For the degree of Bachelor of Arts there were 352 candidates, of whom 155 passed. For Honors in Arts, 29 were candidates and 24 obtained honors. For the degree of Master of Arts there were 27 candidates, of whom 13 passed. For the degree of Bachelor of Law there were 90 candidates, of whom 37 passed. At the examinations in Civil Engineering, out of 31 candidates, 13 passed. The Medical Examinations were, for special reasons, held somewhat late this year, and I am unable to give you their results.

"There are certain points connected with these figures which call for observation. There has been a marked increase in the proportion of successful candidates at the Entrance Examination. Thus, in the previous year, out of 2,697 candidates, 1,069 passed (rather under 40 per cent.); while this year, out of 2,793 candidates, 1,666 passed (rather over 59 per cent). The explanation of this striking increase is not, I believe, far to seek. The real stumbling-block of the entrance candidate is English. In former years the English examination for entrance has been a general one, not in a prescribed book; in the year under review this system has been changed, and the examination has been in a prescribed book. Whether the change has been beneficial or otherwise, I am not prepared to express any opinion without longer experience. At the first glance, one is inclined to say that a change which has so largely affected the proportion of successful candidates must have lowered the standard of attainment. But that would, I think, be a hasty assumption. It may equally well be that a method of examination less liable to be affected by accident in its results, and better suited to an early stage of education, has enabled a larger proportion of candidates to bring out the knowledge they possess.

"With respect to the effect of another recent change, I can speak with less hesitation. In former years, a limit of age (sixteen years) was fixed, below which candidates for entrance could not present themselves. This is now changed, and the change took effect in the past year. 46 candidates under sixteen years of age have presented themselves, of whom 40 have been successful. This is a very satisfactory result. The small number of candidates shows that the change has had no revolutionary effect. The large proportion of successful candidates shows that where it has operated it has given relief to those who deserved it.

"Amongst the candidates for Entrance, six were females, of whom four were successful. For the First Arts Examination, two female candidates presented themselves, both of whom passed.

"This University is primarily an examining body; and, as such, its functions may be said to be twofold. By the course it prescribes for the Entrance Examination, it lays down the lines upon which the teaching in all higher class schools is to be conducted; and by the Examination, it tests the quality of that teaching. In like manner, by the courses laid down for the subsequent Examinations, the First Arts Examination, and those for Degrees in Arts, Law, Medicine, and Engineering, and by those Examinations themselves, it governs the course of education in the affiliated colleges, and tests the quality of their teaching. The figures I have stated show how far-reaching the influence of the University is in both these departments; and a comparison of the numbers directly influenced to-day with those of past years shows that progress has been rapid and steady.

"Indeed, in the present day, the success of the University system, regarded from this point of view, is hardly any longer questioned. It is hardly denied now, by any, that its system of education has taken deep root amongst the people of this country, and moulded their minds and thoughts to an extent greater than the most sanguine could have anticipated.

"But complaint is made on other grounds. Men say—'You educate our sons, and then you leave them. Their education cannot feed them or clothe them. It gives them neither work nor salary: the educated youth has the struggle of life all before him, just as if he had never entered a university. Your education is of no profit to him—it is a failure.' This complaint appears to me to be pressed with ever-increasing frequency, and increasing urgency; but it is based, I think, upon a radically false conception. To those who speak thus, I say—'You are appealing to false motives; you are pointing to a false ideal; you are measuring the value of education by a false standard. The true motive of the student is not desire for gain, but love of truth and desire for knowledge. The true ideal of the scholar is not one who is willing to learn so much as he is paid to learn; but one who is willing, so far as his circumstances and the varied duties of life permit, to give up his time, his talents, his energies, to the pursuit of the knowledge for which he craves. The true value of education consists not in the worldly profit which it may enable you to make, but in this,—that it awakens the love of truth as a motive of action; that it stimulates and gratifies the desire for knowledge; that it calls into activity the dormant powers of the mind, trains and strengthens them by exercise, teaches you to know the relative strength and value of your several faculties, and to subordinate all to the control of the judgment; that it accustoms you to observe and to reason, and so to know good from evil, the true from the false; and thus leaves you stronger, wiser, and better men than it found you. Lastly, such an education as the University insists upon opens to you the treasures of thought and wisdom accumulated by the great men of past ages, which form the priceless inheritance of each succeeding generation, and from which every man of you, so long as he has eyes to read and a mind to understand, may draw to the limit of his capacity. And thus it gives you sources of pleasure and interest which neither prosperity nor adversity can deprive you of.

"Some of the young men whom I am addressing may be inclined to say that, in asking them to value knowledge and culture for their own sake, apart from any worldly profit which they may bring or not bring, I am asking too much and setting before them an impossible ideal. I think I am not, and I think all history shows that I am not. I believe the standard I put before you is the one which in most countries and at most times has been commonly adopted in actual life. I believe the habit of looking upon education as of value only in proportion to its pecuniary results, whether you find it in England or in India, to be but of yesterday's growth, and its prevalence to be an outcome of the competitive system. I believe it to be unworthy alike of your Hindu ancestors in India, and of what I may call your intellectual ancestors in the West.

"We of the West owe the intellectual wealth which has descended to us, first, to those who kept alive the light of thought and knowledge throughout the gloom of the middle ages. They were chiefly obscure monks, who thought themselves happy if they might pursue their scientific studies without being accused of witchcraft; or bold thinkers who risked the charge of heresy for their love of truth. In either case there was no room for notions of gain. Nor was worldly profit the motive which led successive generations of religious men to preserve and laboriously reproduce the literary wealth of past ages and to make their monasteries centres of light and intellectual life for the districts around.

"The West is indebted, secondly, to those who took part in the great movement commonly spoken of as 'the revival of learning'. That was a movement certainly based upon no thought of gain. It was the result of an enthusiasm, pure, spontaneous, and unselfish. Its agents were scholars who devoted their life to their work, and busy men of the world who gave their leisure and lavished their wealth to acquire and diffuse the knowledge which so attracted them.

"We are indebted, thirdly, to the great thinkers and workers who have since then devoted themselves to science and philosophy. If you take the men of science from the days of Harvey or of Newton to the days of Faraday, if you go through the philosophers and moralists from Locke and Berkeley to Mill and Carlyle, you will find many who have sacrificed health and wealth and comfort and worldly advancement to the pursuit of truth. You will find it difficult, I think, to point to one with whom the hope of worldly gain either was the primary motive to research, or guided its direction. The names I have mentioned are English names; but what is true of England is, I think, equally true of the other countries of Europe.

"Nor has it been otherwise in the East. He was an eastern king, not a western, of whom it is recorded that he won the Divine favour in an especial degree because, when offered a choice of blessings, he chose, not long life, nor wealth, nor victory over his enemies, but an understanding heart. And wherever Jew or Christian or Mussulman is to be found, the memory of the wise king is held in honour.

"With regard to Hindus, there is no nation in the world which possesses so ancient or so minute a body of rules for regulating the life and conduct of a student as the Hindus possess in their ancient books of law. And no one, I think, doubts that the precepts we there find laid down were carried out to the letter in actual practice. Can any one realise the picture which those books present to us of student life,—the patient years of obedience and humility, of vigilance and self-denial, of rigid austerity and unceasing study,—and associate these ideas with one who knows no higher motive for study than the hope of worldly gain? The people of this country must have broken completely with the memory of the past, and diverged strangely from the type of their forefathers, if they cannot rise to see education in any higher light than as a possible source of money.

"If, therefore, the prospects of our young graduates were even much gloomier than they are, it would not follow that the university system was in any degree a failure. And here I might naturally close. But it might then perhaps seem to some that I had failed to realise or to sympathize with the difficulties in which such young men undoubtedly find themselves placed. That would be a false impression. I wish, therefore, to add a very few more words upon the subject, and I would address myself primarily to those young men themselves.

"I would remind you first that the difficulty under which you are labouring—the difficulty of finding employment by which you may live—is not the result of your university training, but of very different causes. Amongst every people living under a settled government, under which the ravages of war are unknown, and life and property are secure from violence, population has a tendency to increase more rapidly than the means of employment; and unless, by a change in the habits of the people, the increase of population is checked, or new means of employment are opened up, commensurate with the demand, much suffering must result. This is, plainly stated, the cause of your present difficulties. If you had not had a university education, you would have had to face the same struggle for existence, with this difference, that you would have been less able to understand its true nature and causes, and less fitted to bear your part in the battle of life.

"Again I ask you not to imagine that the difficulties you have to contend with are something peculiar to yourselves, from which young men in other countries are exempt. This is not so. The same causes produce the same effects everywhere, and, wherever population is growing fast, men suffer as you are doing. The struggle for employment among young Bengalis in Bengal is the same in kind as among young Englishmen in England. No man can live in Calcutta without being pained to see the crowds of applicants for every post, great or small, which promises a subsistence, and to think of the stress and pressure of which the fact is evidence. But no man can live in London without meeting a like sad experience. I say this, not because I imagine that the knowledge of this fact will lighten your own difficulties. It is poor consolation to a hungry man to tell him that there were others as hungry as he. I say it because it leads up to something further that I wish to say.

"In seeking for means to relieve the strain under which you now live, it is natural in this country to turn first to the Government of the country for aid. And, at present, so far as I have been able to observe, the appeal takes two forms. First, the increased employment of natives of this country in the public service is asked. In this direction much has already been done—more than some people are always ready to acknowledge; and I sincerely hope that those responsible for the government of the country may find it possible to do still more. But if all that has ever been asked were to be conceded, the employment afforded would bear a very trifling proportion to the demand for employment. Moreover, the amount of Government employment available would be at best but a constant quantity; while the numbers seeking employment is not a constant quantity, but one increasing from year to year. The idea that in this or in any other country the service of the State can ever absorb the bulk of the educated youth of the country is a wild and mischievous dream.

"The second form which the appeal to Government takes is a demand for increased technical education. In this direction also a good deal has been done. Whether more could usefully be done, I am not qualified to form an opinion; but I am quite sure that those who think that in technical education they will find any large measure of relief from the present difficulty, are doomed to disappointment. The importance of technical education has been urged for many years past, by writers of great zeal and ability; and the highest form, so far as I know, in which they put their case is this,—that by technical education you may so improve the skill, taste, and dexterity of those engaged in any given industry, as to enable them to compete upon more favourable terms with those who have not been so highly taught. I do not think any reasonable man ever has suggested, or ever would suggest, that by technical education you could create new industries, open up new channels for the employment of capital and labour, or draw any large class of the community into pursuits to which they have hitherto been strangers.

"I have pointed out that the difficulty in which you find yourselves is one which the nations of the West also have had, and still have, to contend with; and it appears to me that the experience of the West may not be without its value to the East. In England—I speak of England, not that I think England differs in this respect from other western countries, but because it is the best known to you and to me—in England there are forces always at work which relieve the pressure of the competition for employment. I do not say that they remove it, but they so far relieve it as to prevent its increasing, and render it endurable. This happens in two ways. On the one hand, the pressure of adversity checks marriage (the marriage registers are a very sensitive index of the rising or falling prosperity of the people; and this is especially the case amongst educated men), and thus the advancing crowd of competitors for employment is kept down.

"On the other hand, young men have not been content to struggle on in their thousands along the old paths of industry which were only wide enough for their fathers when they were numbered by hundreds. They have thrown themselves into new branches of manufacture and commerce, which their forefathers would perhaps have despised. If there was not room for them on the land, they have found employment on the sea; if there was not work for them at home, they have sought it in the remotest quarters of the globe. And thus we see young men of gentle birth and liberal education clearing Canadian forests, herding sheep in Australia and cattle in the prairies of Western America, serving in factories in China, and cultivating tea in the gardens of Assam. Bengal has the same problem before her; and if she solves it, as I earnestly hope she may, it must be by the prudence and energy of her own sons."

The Vice-Chancellor then declared the Convocation closed.

142. The Senate met to elect a Tagore Professor of Law.

The following gentlemen were Candidates for the Professorship, and their names were laid before the Senate,—the proposed subject for lectures being mentioned opposite to each Candidate's name:—

Gilbert Henderson, Esq.	...	The Law of Limitation and Prescription in British India, including Easements.
Babu Upendranath Mitra	...	Do. do. do.
N. N. Ghose, Esq.	...	The Law of Testamentary Devise, as administered in British India.
C. J. Cooper, Esq., M.A., LL.B.	...	Do. do. do.

Babu Amritalal De	...	Do. do. do.
A. Barooah, Esq.	...	Do. do. do.
Babu Golapchandra Sarkar	...	Do. do. do.

Dr. Rajendralala Mitra, Rai Bahadur, moved that Babu Upendranath Mitra be elected Tagore Law Professor for the term of one year, from the 1st of September 1881, and that the subject of his lectures be the Law of Limitation and Prescription in British India, including Easements.

Babu Piyarichand Mitra seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

143. Read the following correspondence—

From C. W BOLTON, ESQ., Under Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to the Registrar of the Calcutta University,—No. 570, dated Calcutta, the 25th November 1880.

"I am directed to forward herewith, a copy of the papers noted in the margin,* from which it will be seen that the London University is willing to allow examinations for its Degrees to be held in Calcutta. I am to request that you will be so good as to place the matter before the Senate, with the intimation that the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to receive an expression of their opinion on the subject."

* Letter from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 6747, of the 5th November 1880, and its enclosures.
Letter to the Director of Public Instruction, No. 569, dated 25th November 1880.

From the Director of Public Instruction, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department,—No. 6747, dated Fort William, the 5th November 1880.

"In forwarding to you a copy of the enclosed letter from Babu Pramadacharan Sen, and of its enclosure, I have the honor to submit the following remarks in elucidation of its purport.

"2. By a recent resolution of the Gilchrist Trustees, which was communicated to me with your endorsement No. 534, dated 29th September 1880, the examination for the Gilchrist Scholarship was made identical with the Matriculation Examination of the London University, and it was further decided that any candidate who passed the examination for the Scholarship became, by that very fact, a matriculated member of the London University, and was therefore ineligible to appear as a candidate at any future Examination. The object of this regulation may possibly have been to prevent candidates from competing for the Scholarship year after year; but if so, it has had an effect wider than its authors contemplated.

"3. The present applicant is one who apparently passed the Examination without gaining a Scholarship, in January 1880, and who is now, therefore, a matriculated member of the London University. As such, he has applied to the Registrar of that University for permission to present himself at the first B. A. Examination,—the question-papers being forwarded to Calcutta for that purpose. To this the Registrar replies that there is no objection, but he requires the application to be forwarded to the University through the India Office.

"4. What has been done in one case will, of course, be done in others, as soon as the full scope of the recent regulation becomes known. The Act of Incorporation of the Calcutta University requires (Section XII) that every candidate for a degree shall have completed a full course of instruction in an institution affiliated to that University;—the University of London makes no such requirement. Students will therefore be led to consider whether it is to their advantage to read for the Degrees of the Calcutta or for those of the London University, for the latter of which they will have to present no certificates of having completed a full course of instruction in an affiliated College, and consequently will be under no necessity of paying College fees for a prolonged period. The probable result will be that increasing numbers will elect the London University, and, under cover of competing for the Gilchrist Scholarship, will pass the matriculation of that University and read for its degrees independently of College instruction. I express no opinion whether this would be in itself a desirable result or not; but it appears to me that, in a matter which may seriously affect the Calcutta University, the Senate of that Body should have the opportunity of declaring its opinion upon the proposal to include Bengal within the area covered by the London University.

"5. In the present instance, it would perhaps be advisable to forward the application through the regular channels, to the Senate of the London University, with an intimation of any orders that the Government may see fit to pass upon the case."

From BABU PRAMADACHARAN SEN, to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal,—dated Calcutta, the 16th October 1880.

"I beg to inform you that I appeared at the Matriculation Examination of the London University, held at Calcutta in January 1880, and successfully passed it, in the first division.

"With a view to appear at the first B. A. Examination of the London University, I applied by letter to the Registrar of the same University, and I have been assured, in reply, that the first B. A. Examination may be held for me here. As it is necessary, however, that I should apply to the authorities here that an official application may be made, I request the favor of your kindly accepting my application for appearing at the next First B. A. Examination, and of forwarding it for the consideration of the Senate of the London University.

"I am not aware whether I shall have to deposit any fees for permission to appear at the said Examination, and I beg to hope you will kindly enlighten me on the point.

"Hoping my application will be kindly accepted."

From H N. MOSELY, ESQ., Registrar, London University, to BABU PRAMADACHARAN SEN,—dated London, the 20th September 1880.

"In answer to your enquiry, I have the honor to inform you that applications for the holding of the Examination of the University in India are received by the Senate only when they are presented through the India Office. You should therefore apply to the Local Government authorities, in order that an official application may be made. There is no reason why the first B. A. Examination should not be held in India for the sake of a single candidate."

From C. W. BOLTON, ESQ., Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to the Director of Public Instruction,—No. 569, dated Calcutta, the 25th November 1880.

"I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 6747, of the 5th November 1880, and its enclosures from Babu Pramadacharan Sen. It appears that the Babu passed the Gilchrist Scholarship Examination held at Calcutta in January 1880, but gained no Scholarship; that under the existing rules he is now a matriculated member of the London University, and that, as such, he applied to the Registrar of that University for permission to present himself at the first B. A. Examination, the question-papers being forwarded to Calcutta for him. To this the Registrar has agreed, but he requires the application from Babu Pramadacharan Sen to be forwarded to the University through the India Office.

"2. In reply, I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the proposal is one which is likely injuriously to affect the University of Calcutta. He sees no object whatever in placing facilities in the way of students desiring to take a degree of the London University without leaving this country, and he is not disposed to move in the matter, as at present advised. A copy of the correspondence will, however, be forwarded to the Registrar of the Calcutta University, to be laid before the Senate, and the Lieutenant Governor would be glad to have their opinion on the subject."

Mr. A. W. Croft proposed

"That in the opinion of the Senate it is at present undesirable that candidates, other than teachers, should be admitted to examinations in India for a University degree, unless they have undergone a regular course of instruction in an affiliated college."

Mr. J. Eliot seconded the motion.

Dr. Rajendralala Mitra, Rai Bahadur, proposed the following amendment, which was seconded by Babu Piyari Chand Mitra :—

"That the Senate agree with the opinion expressed by the Syndicate, that the interests of the Calcutta University will not suffer by admitting students to compete for the degrees of the London University, and by holding the London University Examinations in Calcutta."

Dr. K. M. Banerjea then moved, and Pandit Maheschandra Nyayaratna seconded, the following amendment :—

"That persons who have passed a regular course of study in any affiliated College of the Calcutta University may be allowed to be examined for the degrees of the London University,—the only exceptions being those which are acknowledged by the University of Calcutta for its own Examinations."

Dr. K. M. Banerjea's amendment was put to the vote and lost. Dr. Rajendralala Mitra's amendment was then put to the vote and carried.

Mr. W. C. Bonnerjee then proposed, and Mr. A. W. Croft seconded, the following motion :—

"That, in the opinion of the Senate, the Government should, before submitting any applications from candidates for the degrees of the London or any other foreign University, satisfy themselves that such Candidates are persons who have gone through a regular course of study in some College affiliated to the Calcutta University, or are teachers who would be allowed to appear in the Examinations of the latter University."

This was put to the vote and carried.

144. Mr. Croft then gave notice that he would, at the next meeting of the Senate, propose the following resolutions :—

FIRST ARTS EXAMINATION.

I.—That the principle of alternative courses in Literature (A) and Science (B) for the First Arts Examination be adopted.

II.—That the subjects of examination in either course be five.

III.—That in each course a certain number of subjects be compulsory, and a certain number optional.

IV.—That among the compulsory subjects, two (namely, English and History) be common to both courses.

V.—(a) That the compulsory subjects in either course be three ; and (b) That the optional subjects of either course include, but be not confined to, the special compulsory subjects of the other.

VI.—That the subjects (1) compulsory, (2) optional of the A Course, (3) compulsory, (4) optional, of the B Course, be those which have been accepted by the Faculty of Arts.

B. A. EXAMINATION.

I.—That the number of subjects for the B. A. Examination in either course be three.

II.—That English only be common to both courses as a compulsory subject.

III.—That no other subject, whether compulsory or optional, be common to both courses.

IV.—That English and a classical language be compulsory subjects in the A Course.

V.—That no other subject be compulsory in the A Course.

VI.—That the optional subjects of the A Course be those accepted by the Faculty of Arts.

VII.—That English be the only compulsory subject in the B Course.

VIII.—That the optional subjects be those recommended by the Faculty.

REPORT OF THE SYNDICATE FOR THE YEAR 1880-81.

The usual Examinations have been held during the year in Arts, Law, Medicine, and Engineering; and a tabular statement is appended, shewing the results and affording a comparison with the results of previous years. The total number of candidates who appeared at this year's Examinations was 4,402, against 4,399 in the previous year.

Entrance Examination.

The number of candidates registered for the Entrance Examination was 2,793, of whom 1,666 passed, 1,045 failed, and 82 were absent. Of the successful candidates, 416 were placed in the First Division, 953 in the Second, and 297 in the Third. The number of candidates was greater by 96 than in the previous year. The result of the examination shews a great increase in the percentage of passed candidates as compared with 1879. For the Tagore Law professorship, vacated by the retirement of Baboo Rajkumar Sarvadhikari, five candidates presented themselves: At a meeting of the Senate, held on the 28th of August 1881, Mr. W. F. Agnew was elected Tagore Professor of Law for the period of one year. The professor is now occupied in delivering a course of lectures on the Law of Trusts in India.

At the same meeting the Senate adopted the following revised scheme for the Tagore Law Lectures :—

1. That in the month of August in each year, the Faculty of Law shall name four or more subjects, upon one of which (to be selected by himself) the Professor for the following year shall be required to deliver a course of at least twelve lectures.

2. That immediately after the subjects shall have been thus named, advertisements shall be published in such newspapers as the Syndicate may think proper, stating the subjects for the lectures, and inviting candidates for the Professorship.

3. That the candidates shall then send in their names to the Registrar on or before the 1st of January following; and each candidate shall be required to state upon which of the subjects he is willing to lecture.
4. That the election of the Professor shall then take place in the month of March; and that he shall be appointed for one year only,—the Senate being at liberty to re-elect him, if they shall think proper.

It was resolved that the new scheme should come into operation immediately, but that the Professor's salary should commence from the 1st of September 1881.

In accordance with this revised scheme, the Faculty of Law met on the 31st of August, and named the following four subjects, upon one of which (to be selected by himself) the Professor to be appointed for the year begining the 1st of September 1881, should deliver a course of lectures:—

(1) Undivided Hindu family:—Status, rights, liabilities and privileges of its members under the different schools of Hindu Law.
(2) The Law relating to the Disposition of Property among the Mahomedans.
(3) The Law of Limitation and Prescription in British India, including Easements.
(4) The Law of Testamentary Devise as administered in British India.

As soon as the recommendations of the Faculty were laid before the Syndicate, the Registrar was ordered to insert the following advertisement in the leading newspapers of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad:—

"The Senate will proceed in the month of March 1881 to the election of a Tagore Professor for the term of one year to commence on the 1st of September 1881.

"The salary of the Professorship is Rs. 10,000 per annum, and the Professor will be expected to deliver a course of not less than twelve lectures upon one of the following subjects:—

(1) Undivided Hindu family:—Status, rights, liabilities and privileges of its members under the different schools of Hindu Law.
(2) The Law relating to the Disposition of Property among the Mahomedans.
(3) The Law of Limitation and Prescription in British India, including Easements.
(4) The Law of Testamentary Devise as administered in British India.

"Candidates for the Professorship are requested to forward their applications to the Registrar on or before the 1st of January 1881, and at the same time to state on which of the above-mentioned four subjects they are prepared to lecture."

The Registrar was also directed to forward copies of this advertisement to the Sub-Treasurers of the four Inns of Court, and to the Registrars of the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge and London.

This was accordingly done, and by the 1st of January applications were received from eight gentlemen (one of whom is resident in England, and one in Japan).
